SHELTER

NORTHERN

2018

NORWAY

Just as a shelter in a storm creates a safe haven, this streamlined desk and console provide a stronghold for essentials and artefacts. The design is refreshingly simple, with virtually no excess features. The tabletop is bordered by perforated steel, forming a lightweight screen that wraps around the front and sides. The surface itself is crafted from a smoked oak veneer supported between legs made in steel. A lighter, oiled oak veneer is also available.
The screen provides a compelling backdrop for contemporary artefacts, forming a focal point that lends itself to arrangements of ornaments and objects. Shelter's versatility and simplicity make it a great fit for any type of environment.

BAMBOO CANES

BAMBÚ

CASTLERY

2017

SINGAPORE

Bambu takes its inspiration from the century old techniques used for bamboo and rattan furniture. The legs seamlessly connect to the side rail and travels uninterrupted from the flanks of the sofa to the back. This is only possible using the solid wood steam bending technique, something that is extremely difficult to do well. This structure is reminiscent of south east Asian furniture but it's reimagined with a western, modern twist.
